EDWARD NELSON, Petitioner v. JERRY W. GEAKE, UPPER MT. BETHEL TOWNSHIP BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, and NORTHAMPTON COUNTY ELECTION DIVISION, Respondents

Preliminary Objections—Quo Warranto—Pa. Election Code—Elections—Substituted Nomination—Nunc Pro Tunc.

Plaintiff asserted a cause of action in quo warranto and asserted a violation of the Pennsylvania Election Code, claiming that Defendant Geake had been improperly permitted to appear on the ballot for a special election to the Upper Mt. Bethel Township Board of Supervisors. Having missed the deadline to file an objection to Geake's substituted nomination certificate because he was allegedly misinformed about the time in which he was permitted to do so, Plaintiff sought to object nunc pro tunc. The Court, finding that Plaintiff had not alleged either fraud on the part of the Northampton County Election Division or a breakdown in the process thereof, denied Plaintiff the opportunity to raise his claims nunc pro tunc.

OPINION

This matter is before the Court on preliminary objections to Petitioner's Complaint, which sets forth an action in quo warranto and alleges a violation of the Pennsylvania Election Code in connection with the November 2011 Board of Supervisors election in Upper Mount Bethel Township, Northampton County, Pennsylvania. Preliminary objections have been filed by all Respondents, each raising two identical objections, with Respondent Upper Mount Bethel Township Board of Supervisors raising an additional objection that is inapplicable to the other Respondents. Petitioner opposes each of the preliminary objections.

I. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

As gleaned from Petitioner's Complaint, the following is a summary of the facts relevant to our determination of the instant preliminary objections: On May 17, 2011, a primary election was held in which Republican and Democratic candidates were nominated for two open positions on the Upper Mount Bethel Township Board of Supervisors (Board), which positions were to be filled in the general election the following November. Four candidates presented their names for the Democratic nominations: Jerry W. Geake (Geake), Loren Rabbat, Edward Nelson (Petitioner) and Jeffrey Fritchman. Only one candidate, Larry Hallett, presented his name for the Republican nomination. The election results were such that Loren Rabbat received the highest number of Democratic votes, with Petitioner receiving the second highest number of votes and Geake the third. Larry Hallett received the highest number of Republican votes and Loren Rabbat received the second highest number of Republican votes, by way of write-in votes, despite not having presented herself as a Republican candidate. Following the primary election, Loren Rabbat and Petitioner were named the two Democratic nominees for the Board, and Larry Hallett and Loren Rabbat were named as the two Republican nominees for the Board. On July 25, 2011, Loren Rabbat withdrew her name as a Republican candidate for the Board, while remaining a Democratic candidate. At some time following the primary election, but prior to August 28, 2011, Geake changed his party affiliation from Democratic to Republican.

On August 18, 2011, the Northampton County Republican Executive Committee (NCREC) held a special meeting, at which it nominated Geake as a Republican candidate for the general election, replacing Loren Rabbat after her withdrawal. Shortly thereafter, a substitute nomination certificate was filed with the Northampton County Election Division (Election Division) Voter Registration Office, adding Geake's name as a Republican candidate in the general election. Therefore, Petitioner and Loren Rabbat appeared as the Democratic nominees on the general election ballot, and Geake and Larry Hallett appeared as the Republican nominees.

On November 8, 2011, the general election was held, the result of which was that Larry Hallett received the highest number of votes, Geake received the second highest number of votes, Petitioner received the third highest number of votes and Loren Rabbat received the least votes. On November 28, 2011, Larry Hallett and Geake were certified as the newly elected supervisors on the Board, to commence six-year terms beginning in January 2012.

On an unknown date following the filing of Geake's substitute nomination certificate but prior to the general election, Petitioner attempted to file an objection to the substitute nomination certificate with the Election Division. Petitioner was allegedly told by an employee of the Election Division that he could not challenge the nomination until such time as the election results were certified. Accordingly, Petitioner filed the Complaint in this matter after the results were certified, setting forth a cause of action in quo warranto and an allegation of a violation of the Election Code. He filed the Complaint on December 21, 2011, approximately twenty-three (23) days following the certification of the election results.

Thereafter, each of the Respondents filed preliminary objections to the Complaint. Each Respondent raises the same two preliminary objections, which (a) challenge this Court's jurisdiction to hear the matter, and (b) allege that Petitioner has failed to conform with the applicable law in filing this action. First, Respondents assert that this Court cannot hear and Petitioner cannot maintain this action as Petitioner has exceeded the three (3) day time frame in which he may lawfully challenge Geake's substituted nomination certification. Second, Respondents allege that the filing of an action alleging Election Code violations is not permitted nunc pro tunc. For the reasons set forth below, we find that we must sustain these preliminary objections as they relate to all parties. The Board also raises a third objection alleging that it is not a proper party to this action. Because we find that the action cannot be maintained against any party, we need not reach this issue on its merits.

II. DISCUSSION

In order to contest a substituted nomination certificate, Pennsylvania law requires that an objection be filed within three (3) days after the substituted nomination certificate is filed. 25 P.S. §2942. Having had an opportunity to interpret this statute, our Supreme Court has held that the time requirement therein is strictly mandatory. In re Evans, 534 Pa. 279, 632 A.2d 862 (1993) (finding an objection to a substituted nomination certificate void where it was filed but not served within the three-day mandatory time period, but was served on the fourth day). See also, Horsham Township Election Case, 356 Pa. 60, 51 A.2d 692 (1947) (finding that the court was without power to hear an election contest where the time to contest the election results, provided by statute, had passed). The timeliness of the objection is relevant to the jurisdiction of the court to hear it. Appeal of Orsatti, 143 Pa. Commonwealth Ct. 12, 598 A.2d 1341 (1991).

In his Complaint, Petitioner concedes that there is a three-day time limit on the filing of objections to substituted nomination certificates. He contends, however, that equity must permit him to file his objection nunc pro tunc as the result of his having been unintentionally misled by an employee of the Election Board with regard to the time in which he was required to object. We find that no such relief is warranted in this case.

The granting of permission to challenge an election result or alleged violation of the Election Code nunc pro tunc is seldom warranted, and then only in the most extraordinary circumstances. In order to warrant the waiver of the mandatory, statutorily prescribed, time limit in which one may challenge an election nomination or an election result, some extraordinary circumstance must be shown, such as fraud or a breakdown in the administrative process of either the court or the election division. Petition of Torres, 99 Pa. Commonwealth Ct. 173, 512 A.2d 732 (1986). An example of such an extraordinary circumstance may be found in In re Twenty-Sixth Election District, 351 Pa. 544, 41 A.2d 657 (1945), where the negligent actions of an election board were found to be tantamount to fraud, where the election board discovered but failed to correct a discrepancy in its vote totals and neglected its statutory duty to publicly announce the final result of the election. As a result, the petitioner in that case was unaware until after the time limit for taking an appeal had passed that an error had occurred. The Supreme Court found that the petitioner had properly relied upon the election board to perform its duties, and accordingly granted him the right to proceed with his appeal nunc pro tunc.

No similarly extraordinary or compelling set of facts is alleged in this case. Petitioner does not allege any fraud on the part of the Election Division or this Court. While the allegations in the Complaint could be perceived as allegations of fraud on the part of Geake or the NCREC, even if fraud by those parties was properly alleged and eventually proven, same would not be a basis for permission to proceed nunc pro tunc—what is relevant is whether there was fraud on the part of the Election Division or the Court. See Orsatti, supra at 15, 598 A.2d at 1342 (finding that an opportunity to proceed nunc pro tunc would be improper where there was no fraud alleged on the part of the court or the election board, despite the possibility that there had been fraud in the form of forged signatures on absentee ballots). Furthermore, there are no facts pleaded which could lead to a conclusion that there was a breakdown in the administrative process of either the Court or the Election Division. While Petitioner alleges that he was given misinformation by an employee of the Election Division with regard to when he was permitted to object to Geake's substituted nomination certification, Petitioner does not allege that this misinformation was the but-for cause of his failure to timely file his objection, i.e., Petitioner does not allege that he contacted the Election Division for the purpose of filing his objection within the prescribed three (3) day time period. This is significant.

Moreover, it is well known that permission to proceed nunc pro tunc is only properly granted where an appeal is filed a short time after the party learned of and had an opportunity to address the untimeliness of his appeal, the elapsed time is of very short duration and the opposing party will not be prejudiced by the delay. In this case, we would not find that either of these elements was present. While Petitioner alleges that he was told he could not object to Geake's nomination until after the election results were certified, Petitioner did not file his Complaint until twenty-three (23) days after the election results were certified, and months after the substitute nomination certificate was actually filed. Given the exigency of resolving disputes related to the electoral process, we could not find that such a delay was reasonable, even if we could find that a post-election objection were proper under the circumstances.

Finally, we would note that while Petitioner invites the Court to find that "an appeal nunc pro tunc may be granted where a litigant is unintentionally misled by officials as to the proper procedure to be followed," as in Monroe County Board of Assessment Appeals v. Miller, we find that case to be easily distinguishable from the one now before the Court. 131 Pa. Commonwealth Ct. 538, 542, 570 A.2d 1386, 1388 (1990). In Miller, the court granted the appellant permission to appeal the tax assessment of her real property beyond the time period prescribed by statute, as a result of an error in the notice sent to her. In that case, all that was at stake was a change in the value assigned to the appellant's property for taxation purposes. In this case, much more is at stake, and a strict application of the statutory time limitations is warranted. As the Elk County Court of Common Pleas stated in a case with facts strikingly similar to the one now before the Court:

We can only say that complete chaos would result in municipal government if courts permitted elections to be upset or declared invalid by reason of some defect in the election procedure for which a timely remedy is expressly provided. One should not be allowed to overlook the statutory remedies provided, await the outcome of the election, and if unsuccessful then claim that the election was invalid.

Sherwood v. Elk County Board of Elections, 33 D. & C.2d 230, 234 (1963).

WHEREFORE, we enter the following:

ORDER

AND NOW, this 16th day of March 2012, upon consideration of the preliminary objections of all Respondents, and Petitioner's response thereto, it is hereby ORDERED that the preliminary objections of Jerry W. Geake and the Northampton County Election Division are SUSTAINED in their entirety. Furthermore, the second and third preliminary objections of Upper Mt. Bethel Township Board of Supervisors are SUSTAINED [sic]. The first preliminary objection of Upper Mt. Bethel Township Board of Supervisors is moot.

BETHLEHEM TOWNSHIP, NORTHAMPTON COUNTY, Plaintiff
v. MUNICIPAL ENERGY MANAGEMENT, INC., ROBERT J.
KEARNS, and PATRICK McLAINE, Defendants

Preliminary Objections—Breach of Contract—Gist of the Action—Piercing the Corporate Veil.

The Court overruled Defendant McLaine’s demurrer to Plaintiff’s breach of contract claim, finding that Plaintiff had pleaded sufficient facts in support of same, predicated upon piercing the corporate veil of Defendant Municipal Energy Management. In so doing, the Court confirmed that “piercing the corporate veil” is a tool of equity, and not a separate cause of action. Plaintiff’s claim for fraudulent misrepresentation was dismissed pursuant to the gist of the action doctrine, which prevents the re-casting of contract claims into tort claims, given that Plaintiff’s claim for fraudulent misrepresentation was based upon Defendants’ breach of their contractual duties.

OPINION

This matter is before the Court on Defendant Patrick McLaine’s preliminary objections to Plaintiff’s Amended Complaint, in which Plaintiff seeks, inter alia, to hold Defendant Patrick McLaine (McLaine) liable for the actions and inactions of Defendant Municipal Energy Management, Inc. (MEM), by piercing the corporate veil of MEM. In his preliminary objections, McLaine first demurs to Plaintiff’s claims against him for breach of contract, claiming that Plaintiff has failed to adequately plead facts which would permit the piercing of the corporate veil. McLaine also objects to the breach of contract claim in that he claims Plaintiff’s allegations in support of piercing the corporate veil are insufficiently specific. McLaine also demurs to Plaintiff’s claim for fraudulent misrepresentation, on the grounds that it is barred by the gist of the action doctrine. Finally, McLaine objects on the grounds that Plaintiff’s claim for fraudulent misrepresentation is insufficiently specific and not pleaded with particularity, as required by Pa. R.C.P. 1019(b). Plaintiff opposes each of the preliminary objections. Both parties have submitted briefs for our consideration, and the matter is now ready for disposition.

I. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

Plaintiff alleges the following facts in support of its claims against Defendant McLaine: In or about July 2007, Plaintiff entered into an agreement with MEM, pursuant to which MEM was to negotiate with a third party, PPL Electric Utilities, to arrange for the purchase of street lighting facilities for Plaintiff, for the purpose of privatizing Plaintiff's street lighting facilities. MEM promised Plaintiff that the privatization of its street lighting facilities with MEM would result in a measurable savings to Plaintiff on the amount spent for street lighting. Pursuant to the contract, and in anticipation of MEM's performance thereunder, Plaintiff paid MEM $832,460. While the project was to be completed by January 2, 2009, it has yet to be completed. Furthermore, MEM did not negotiate with PPL as promised. MEM was further required, pursuant to the parties' contract, to conduct an annual audit and capped payment reconciliation, neither of which has occurred since the parties entered into the contract.

Plaintiff further alleges that at all times prior to and during the parties' entry into the contract, MEM had no intention of fulfilling the promises it made in the contract and that said intention constitutes a fraudulent misrepresentation on the part of MEM. Plaintiff also alleges that MEM made fraudulent misrepresentations following the parties' entry into the agreement, in that it falsely communicated to Plaintiff that it was proceeding under the terms of the agreement.

This case was initially commenced by the filing of a Complaint against MEM for breach of contract, fraudulent misrepresentation and conversion. After conducting discovery, Plaintiff determined that Robert J. Kearns and Patrick McLaine were proper parties to the action, as President and Secretary-Treasurer of MEM, respectively. After seeking and being granted leave to file an amended pleading, Plaintiff filed the Amended Complaint, including Kearns and McLaine as Defendants. Therein, Plaintiff alleges that MEM is merely an alter ego of the individual Defendants, in that MEM fails to observe corporate formalities in its day-to-day operations, in that MEM fails to maintain adequate corporate records, and in that the individual Defendants have intermingled corporate funds with personal funds and used corporate funds for their personal use and gain, including the funds paid by Plaintiff. Plaintiff alleges that MEM is merely a corporate façade through which the individual defendants have perpetuated fraud against Plaintiff. As such, Plaintiff seeks to pierce the corporate veil and hold the individual Defendants liable for its claims against MEM.

II. DISCUSSION

In ruling on McLaine's demurrer, we must consider as true all of the material, relevant and well-pleaded facts in the complaint, as set forth in the recitation of facts above, as well as any reasonable inferences which may be drawn therefrom, but not conclusions of law. Wurth by Wurth v. City of Philadelphia, 136 Pa. Commonwealth Ct. 629, 584 A.2d 403 (1990). Only where it is clear and free from doubt that the law will not permit recovery on the basis of the complaint should a demurrer be sustained. Mellon Bank, N.A. v. Fabinyi, 437 Pa. Super. 559, 650 A.2d 895 (1994).

A. Plaintiff Has Pleaded Sufficient Facts To Set Forth a Cause of Action for Breach of Contract Against Defendant McLaine, Predicated Upon Piercing the Corporate Veil of MEM.

In his first preliminary objection, McLaine demurs to Plaintiff's claim for breach of contract, asserting that Plaintiff has failed to state a claim against him individually, given that Plaintiff has identified only a contract between Plaintiff and MEM that is alleged to have been breached. The contract attached as an exhibit to the Amended Complaint likewise indicates that the contract was entered into between Plaintiff and MEM, and that McLaine was not himself a party. McLaine's only quarrel with the breach of contract claim is that McLaine is not a party to the contract at issue—he does not allege, nor do we find, that Plaintiff has failed to state a sufficient claim for breach of contract as against MEM itself. It is true that the contract at issue does not include McLaine as a party, and in the ordinary case same would be grounds for dismissing the claim as against McLaine. However, we find McLaine's demurrer to the breach of contract claim to be without merit, as Plaintiff has included in its Amended Complaint a demand to pierce the corporate veil of MEM, and hold McLaine liable personally. While McLaine asserts in his preliminary objections that Plaintiff has failed to set forth sufficient facts in its Amended Complaint to permit Plaintiff to pursue a piercing of the corporate veil, we find that Plaintiff has, in fact, pleaded appropriately.

We would first note that piercing the corporate veil is not an independent cause of action, but is rather a tool of equity, a means of assessing liability against individuals “if the corporate form is a sham, constituting a façade for the operations of the dominant shareholder[s].” Village at Camelback Property Owners Assn. Inc. v. Carr, 371 Pa. Super. 452, 461, 538 A.2d 528, 533 (1988).¹ The purpose of this tool is to ensure that individuals do not abuse the corporate form to further their own interests. “[W]henever one in control of a corporation uses that control, or uses [the] corporate assets, to further his or her own personal interests, the fiction of the separate corporate identity may properly be disregarded.” Ashley v. Ashley, 482 Pa. 228, 237, 393 A.2d 637, 641 (1978).

¹ Though not pleaded as such in its Amended Complaint, Plaintiff asserts in its brief in opposition to McLaine's preliminary objections that piercing the corporate veil is an independent cause of action. Support for this assertion is found in the recent decision of the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, Patroski v. Pressley Ridge, No. 11-1065 (W.D. Pa. Oct. 18, 2011), in which that court found that Pennsylvania law recognizes piercing the corporate veil as an independent cause of action. Finding that this conclusion was based solely upon a determination that our Superior Court had not specifically held that piercing the corporate veil was not a separate cause of action, we decline to follow the District Court's ruling, as no Pennsylvania court has found a separate cause of action to exist. See Martin v. Hale Products, Inc., 699 A.2d 1283, 1287 (Pa. Super. 1997) (“Decisions of the federal courts lower than the United States Supreme Court possess a persuasive authority. ... [A] federal court's interpretation of state law does not bind state courts.”) (citation omitted) (emphasis in original).

In order to employ this tool of equity, a party is required to plead and prove the existence of certain factors which illustrate that the corporate form has served merely as an alter ego of the dominant shareholders of the corporation. While there is no clear or well-settled test articulated in the law of our Commonwealth regarding when the corporate veil may be pierced, a number of factors have been found to be sufficient to overcome a demurrer to a claim in which parties have sought to pierce the veil. Advanced Telephone Systems, Inc. v. Com-Net Professional Mobile Radio, LLC, 846 A.2d 1264 (Pa. Super. 2004). These factors include: undercapitalization, intermingling of corporate and personal affairs, failure to follow or observe corporate formalities, failure of the corporation to have functioning officers, failure to pay dividends, and individuals holding themselves out personally in conducting corporate affairs, without the use of the corporate name. See Village at Camelback, supra; Commonwealth, Department of Environmental Resources v. Peggs Run Coal Company, 55 Pa. Commonwealth Ct. 312, 423 A.2d 765 (1980). While none of these factors, pleaded individually, would be sufficient on its own to permit an attempt to pierce the corporate veil to proceed, it is also the case that they need not all be present in order to pursue same.

In the instant case, Plaintiff has pleaded that MEM does not observe corporate formalities, the Defendants Kearns and McLaine have used MEM funds for their own personal gain, that MEM does not maintain adequate corporate records, that MEM is unable to explain to what purpose it put the money paid by Plaintiff, that the individual defendants have intermingled their personal affairs with those of the corporation, and that MEM has served as a façade behind which the individual Defendants have perpetuated fraud on Plaintiff. Contrary to McLaine's argument in his preliminary objection, these allegations do not constitute conclusions of law, but rather statements of fact, which, while generalized to a degree, are nonetheless sufficient. "Although such generalized pleading is not favored in that it does not provide in detail the material facts supporting the pleaded ultimate facts, this is not a deficiency that warrants the extreme sanction of dismissal on demurrer." Village at Camelback, supra at 465-66, 538 A.2d at 535. For this reason, we shall overrule McLaine's demurrer to Plaintiff's demand to pierce the corporate veil. Furthermore, given that we find Plaintiff's allegations sufficient with regard to piercing the corporate veil, we shall also overrule McLaine's preliminary objection in which he asserts that Plaintiff has been insufficiently specific in his pleading on this point.

B. Plaintiff's Claim for Fraudulent Misrepresentation Is Barred by the Gist of the Action Doctrine.

In addition to those preliminary objections discussed above, McLaine demurs to Plaintiff's claim for fraudulent misrepresentation, asserting that it is barred by the gist of the action doctrine. The gist of the action doctrine is a doctrine which “is designed to maintain the conceptual distinction between breach of contract claims and tort claims. ... As a practical matter, the doctrine precludes plaintiffs from re-casting ordinary breach of contract claims into tort claims.” eToll, Inc. v. Elias/Savion Advertising, Inc., 811 A.2d 10, 14 (Pa. Super. 2002) (citations omitted). While it is possible to maintain claims for both breach of contract and tort in the same action, “the wrong ascribed to defendant must be the gist of the action, the contract being collateral.” Mirizio v. Joseph, 4 A.3d 1073, 1080 (Pa. Super. 2010). Thus, where fraud is alleged, the question of whether the gist of the action doctrine applies turns “on the question of whether the fraud concerned the performance of contractual duties. If so, then the alleged fraud is generally held to be merely collateral to a contract claim for breach of those duties,” and the gist of the action doctrine would prohibit the fraud claim. eToll, supra at 19.

In the instant case, Plaintiff alleges that MEM—and, by extension, the individual Defendants—knew that it had no intention of carrying out its contractual duties, and fraudulently misrepresented to Plaintiff that it would carry out those duties. Plaintiff further alleges that MEM falsely communicated to Plaintiff that it was carrying out its contractual duties, and that the individual Defendants misappropriated the funds paid to MEM, for their personal use. Considering these allegations, we cannot find that the parties’ contract is so tangential to their relationship so as to make fraud the gist of the action. This conclusion comports with the findings of the Superior Court in eToll, in which the court found breach of contract to be the gist of the action where it was alleged that the defendants had, inter alia, taken undisclosed kickbacks and commissions, falsely told the plaintiff that they had performed certain services under the contract, and concealed their schemes in order to fraudulently overbill the plaintiff. For this reason, we find that we must sustain Defendant McLaine’s demurrer as it pertains to Plaintiff’s claim for fraudulent misrepresentation. Given this determination, we need not reach McLaine’s remaining preliminary objections regarding the fraud claims, i.e., that they are not pleaded with particularity or specificity, as they are now moot.

WHEREFORE, we enter the following:

ORDER

AND NOW, this 21st day of March 2012, upon consideration of the preliminary objections of Defendant Patrick McLaine to Plaintiff’s Amended Complaint, and Plaintiff’s response thereto, it is hereby ORDERED that Defendant’s demurrer to Plaintiff’s claim for fraudulent misrepresentation is SUSTAINED. The claim for fraudulent misrepresentation must be DISMISSED, as it is barred by the gist of the action doctrine. Defendant’s remaining preliminary objections are OVERRULED in their entirety.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA v.
JAQUAN TIMOTHY HOWARD, Defendant

Motion To Suppress—Identification.

Identification evidence from a show-up identification was deemed admissible where the victim had a close physical encounter with the Defendant in which he was able to observe the Defendant's face, body type and clothing, where the victim gave a full description of the Defendant, and where the show-up identification was made briefly after the crime took place, within several blocks of where the crime took place.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Northampton County, Pennsylvania, Criminal Division—No. CP-48-CR-1987-2011.

JOHN OBRECHT, ESQUIRE, for the Commonwealth.

VIVIAN ZUMAS, ESQUIRE, for Defendant.

Order of the Court entered on September 20, 2011 by ROSCIOLI, J.

OPINION

This matter is before the Court on the Omnibus Pretrial Motion of Defendant Jaquan Timothy Howard, in the nature of a Motion to Compel Discovery and a Motion to Suppress, in which Defendant asks this Court to exclude from evidence any identification testimony by the victim in this case. In support of his suppression motion, Defendant asserts that the initial identification by the victim was made under circumstances which were unduly suggestive, in what is commonly referred to as a show-up identification, and that any subsequent in-court identification of Defendant is tainted as a result.

The Commonwealth opposes the motion. The parties elected not to have a hearing on the matter, and have submitted the preliminary hearing transcript as well as briefs for the Court's review. The matter is now ready for disposition.

I. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The following facts, as presented by the Commonwealth at the preliminary hearing, are relevant to the instant motion: Shortly before 2:00 a.m. on May 1, 2011, Richard Willock, the victim in this case, was walking home from the New Street Pub when he encountered two black males near the intersection of Pembroke Road and Marvine Street in the City of Bethlehem. (N.T. 6/30/11, pp. 4, 10, 18, 25.) The men were walking towards Mr. Willock. (N.T. p. 18.) When the men approached Mr. Willock, they stood on either side of him, in close proximity; one said to him, "Homey, you all right?" (N.T. p. 19.)

Mr. Willock observed one of the men, later identified by Mr. Willock as Defendant herein, to have an open liquor bottle in his right hand and a firearm in his left hand. (N.T. p. 19.) Defendant pointed the firearm at Mr. Willock's face, while the other man went through Mr. Willock's pockets and took his wallet and money. (N.T. p. 19.) Mr. Willock had approximately $400 on his person at the time. (N.T. pp. 21, 42.) The men did not take Mr. Willock's mobile phone. (N.T. p. 21.) This entire interaction took place over a few minutes. (N.T. p. 38.)

After the men took Mr. Willock's money, they left him and continued to walk down the street. (N.T. pp. 22, 38.) After a moment, Mr. Willock called 911, and police officers appeared on scene within two to four minutes. (N.T. p. 38.) Mr. Willock gave a statement to police at that time, including a detailed physical description of the actors involved. (N.T. pp. 5, 38.) He described the actors as being black males, one tall man wearing red and black, including a red hat and a long-sleeved striped shirt with long black shorts, and one short man wearing all black clothing. (N.T. pp. 4, 5, 23, 30.)

One of the officers who responded to Mr. Willock's 911 call was Officer Benjamin Hackett of the City of Bethlehem Police Department. (N.T. p. 4.) After taking Mr. Willock's statement for 5-10 minutes, Officer Hackett was dispatched to another incident. (N.T. pp. 7, 8.) As he was driving to his next location, Officer Hackett was travelling down Stefko Boulevard in Bethlehem, a few blocks away from where Mr. Willock was robbed. (N.T. pp. 9, 40.) While doing so, he observed two males who exactly met the physical description given to police by Mr. Willock. (N.T. p. 9.)

Officer Hackett then turned his vehicle around, stopped near the two men, exited his vehicle and approached the men with his gun drawn. (N.T. p. 10.) The men complied with Officer Hackett's direction to stop and put their hands up. (N.T. p. 10.) Assisting officers soon arrived, and the men were checked for weapons and made to wait. (N.T. p. 11.) There were approximately four officers standing on the sidewalk with the men who were not handcuffed. (N.T. pp. 11, 15.)

During this time, Officer Hackett directed that Officer Huff bring Mr. Willock to the place where the men were stopped. (N.T. p. 12.) The men were illuminated by spotlight so as to permit Mr. Willock to view them with ease while inhibiting their ability to see Mr. Willock. (N.T. p. 16.) Officer Huff brought Mr. Willock right away, and Mr. Willock positively identified the men as being those who had robbed him, before Officer Huff was able to stop his vehicle. (N.T. pp. 12, 40, 41.) Mr. Willock stated that he was 100 percent certain that those were the men who had robbed him. (N.T. pp. 12, 41.)

II. STANDARD OF LAW

In determining whether to admit identification evidence from a show-up identification, i.e., an identification made on scene, without either an in-person lineup or a photo lineup, we must consider “the opportunity of the witness to view the perpetrator at the time of the crime, the witness’ degree of attention, the accuracy of his prior description of the perpetrator, the level of certainty demonstrated at the confrontation, and the time between the crime and the confrontation.” McElrath v. Commonwealth, 405 Pa. Super. 431, 437, 592 A.2d 740, 743 (1991).

There must be some “special element of unfairness” in a show-up identification that would “give rise to an irreparable likelihood of misidentification” in order for the identification to be suppressed. Commonwealth v. Meachum, 711 A.2d 1029, 1034 (Pa. Super. 1998).

“In reviewing the propriety of identification evidence, the central inquiry is whether, under the totality of the circumstances, the identification was reliable. ... Suggestiveness ... is but one factor to be considered in determining the admissibility of such evidence and will not warrant exclusion absent other factors.” McElrath, supra at 437, 592 A.2d at 742 (emphasis added).

III. DISCUSSION

Applying the factors set forth above to the facts as testified to at the preliminary hearing in this matter, we conclude that we must admit the identification testimony by Mr. Willock. When the robbery took place, Mr. Willock had a very close physical encounter with the two perpetrators, and an opportunity to view them throughout the course of the robbery. He was able to observe their faces, body types and clothing in close proximity for a few minutes. Mr. Willock testified that while he observed the gun pointed at him, he spent the majority of the encounter looking at the men who were robbing him. (N.T. pp. 35-36.) His attention was not distracted from observing the individuals.

Following the robbery, Mr. Willock promptly gave a full description of the men, including their physical description and the clothing they were wearing. Mere minutes later, Officer Hackett observed two men exactly meeting the description given by Mr. Willock, who Mr. Willock identified as being the men who had robbed him. Importantly, when he made the identification, Mr. Willock was completely certain that the two men presented to him were the two men who had robbed him, as soon as he observed them. He did not waiver in his identification at any point. Also of significance is the fact that the identification took place briefly after the robbery took place, within the amount of time it took Defendant and his cohort to walk several blocks down the road.

While Defendant was in fact detained by police at the time of the identification, and while he was surrounded by police and had a spotlight shone on him, there is no “special element of unfairness” in those circumstances alone which would require the suppression of Mr. Willock’s identification testimony. In fact, our Superior Court has upheld show-up identifications under circumstances where a suspect was handcuffed in the back of a police vehicle—circumstances much more serious than standing on a sidewalk, without handcuffs, near police officers. See Commonwealth v. Moye, 836 A.2d 973 (Pa. Super. 2003), Commonwealth v. Allen, 287 Pa. Super. 88, 429 A.2d 1113 (1981).

For all of these reasons, we find that the identification of the Defendant by Mr. Willock did not take place under circumstances which were unduly suggestive, and that there was not an irreparable likelihood of misidentification caused by the circumstances of the show-up identification. We find that the identification was reliable under the totality of the circumstances, and that the circumstances surrounding the initial identification are relevant to its weight and not its admissibility at trial.

WHEREFORE, we enter the following:

ORDER

AND NOW, this 20th day of September 2011, upon consideration of Defendant's Omnibus Pretrial Motion, it is hereby ORDERED that Defendant's Motion to Suppress is DENIED.

It is further ORDERED that the Commonwealth shall produce any evidence to which Defendant is entitled pursuant to Pa.R.Crim.P. 573(B)(1) within ten (10) days of the date of this Order.
