CHERYLA RICKEN, Plaintiff v. KEVIN McELWAIN and KATHERINE McELWAIN, husband and wife, and JEFF VIVIAN, Defendants

Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings—Appraisal Contingency Addendum.

Plaintiff entered into an agreement to sell Defendants' property. The agreement contained an appraisal contingency addendum, which stated that the sale was "contingent upon the Property being appraised ... at a value that is equal or higher than [$150,000.00]." The addendum gave Defendants twenty-one days from the execution date of the agreement to seek termination. After Defendants exercised their option to terminate the agreement pursuant to the appraisal contingency addendum, Plaintiff filed a breach of contract suit.

Plaintiff argued that the execution date of the agreement was October 21, 2009. Because Defendants did not terminate until November 13, 2009, Plaintiff argued that Defendants' notice was ineffective. However, after examining the agreement, the Court found that Plaintiff did not sign the agreement until October 24, 2009. Because the addendum stated that the execution date was the date when both Plaintiff and Defendants signed the agreement, the Court found that Defendants had until November 14, 2009, to exercise their rights under the addendum.

The appraisal of the house was $150,000, provided that multiple cracks in the exterior brick were repaired. The brick was never repaired, and the Court found that Defendants had no obligation to make such repairs. Thus, the Court concluded that the value was appraised at a value less than $150,000. Therefore, Defendants properly exercised their right to terminate the agreement, and Defendants were entitled to judgment as a matter of law.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Northampton County, Pennsylvania, Civil Division—No. C-48-CV-2010-1997.

Order of the Court entered on October 12, 2010 by BELTRAMI, J.

OPINION

This matter is before the Court on the Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings of Defendants Kevin and Katherine McElwain. Briefs have been submitted, argument was heard on September 7, 2010, and the matter is ready for disposition.

A motion for judgment on the pleadings may be granted when the pleadings demonstrate that there is no genuine issue of fact and that the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Urbano v. STAT Courier, Inc., 878 A.2d 58 (Pa. Super. 2005). In ruling on such a motion, the trial court may only consider the pleadings and any documents or exhibits attached to the pleadings. Consolidation Coal Co. v. White, 875 A.2d 318, 326 (Pa. Super. 2005). The "court must accept as true all well-pleaded statements of facts, admissions, and any documents properly attached to the pleadings presented by the party against whom the motion is filed, considering only those facts which have been specifically admitted." In re

Weidner, 895 A.2d 11, 14 (Pa. Super. 2006). Thus, “the party moving for judgment on the pleadings must admit the truth of all the allegations of his adversary and the untruth of any of his own allegations that have been denied by the opposing party.” Pfister v. City of Philadelphia, 963 A.2d 593, 597 (Pa. Commw. 2009). “Where there are material issues of fact in dispute, judgment on the pleadings cannot be entered.” Id.

Viewed in this manner, the pleadings reveal the following facts. Plaintiff owns real estate located at 105 East 1st Street in Northampton, Pennsylvania.¹ On October 21, 2009, the parties entered into an agreement of sale concerning the property.² Under the terms of the agreement, Defendants agreed to pay Plaintiff the sum of $150,000.00, with a $10,000.00 deposit to be paid upon execution of the agreement and the balance to be paid at a closing to be held on or before November 23, 2009.³ Upon execution of the agreement, Defendants deposited $10,000.00 with an escrow agent.⁴

The parties’ agreement contains an appraisal contingency addendum, which states that the sale “is contingent upon the Property being appraised ... at a value that is equal or higher than [$150,000.00].”⁵ The addendum gives Defendants the option to terminate the agreement if the property is appraised at a value less than $150,000.00.⁶

On or about November 3, 2009, Defendants obtained an appraisal, which valued the property at $150,000.00, provided that multiple cracks in the exterior brick are repaired.⁷ On November 13, 2009, Defendants notified Plaintiff that they were exercising their option to terminate the agreement pursuant to the appraisal contingency addendum.⁸ In response, Plaintiff filed the instant breach of contract suit, in which she requests an order directing the escrow agent to release Defendants’ deposit to her. Defendants have filed a counterclaim seeking a refund of their deposit and damages pursuant to the Unfair Trade Practices Act.

Defendants argue that there is no issue of fact and that because the appraisal is contingent upon repairs being made, the appraisal indicates a value less than $150,000.00. Thus, they argue that they properly terminated the agreement and are entitled to judgment as a matter of law.

Initially, Plaintiff argues that Defendants had twenty-one days to seek termination pursuant to the appraisal contingency addendum. Plaintiff argues that the agreement is dated October 21, 2009, giving Defendants until November 11, 2009 to terminate. Thus, Plaintiff argues, Defendants' November 13, 2009 notice is ineffective and Defendants' motion must be denied. This argument is without merit. The appraisal contingency addendum gave the Defendants twenty-one days "from the Execution Date of the Agreement" to exercise their right to terminate.⁹ Paragraph five of the agreement states that the "Execution Date of this Agreement is the date when [Plaintiff] and [Defendants] have indicated full acceptance of this agreement by signing and/or initialing it."¹⁰ Defendant Kevin McElwain signed both the agreement and appraisal contingency addendum on October 21, 2009.¹¹ Defendant Katherine McElwain signed the agreement and appraisal contingency addendum on October 22, 2009.¹² However, Plaintiff did not sign the agreement and appraisal contingency addendum until October 24, 2009.¹³ Thus, the "Execution Date" identified in the appraisal contingency addendum is October 24, 2009, giving Defendants until November 14, 2009, to exercise their rights under the addendum. As Defendants' termination notice was given on November 13, 2009, Plaintiff's argument that Defendants' termination was untimely must be rejected.

Because Plaintiff does not dispute that Defendants obtained an appraisal pursuant to the appraisal contingency addendum or that the appraisal in question is attached to the relevant pleadings, Defendants' motion presents a simple and clear issue to be decided—the value of the property as determined by Defendants' appraisal.

Defendants' appraisal states that "[b]ased on a compete [sic] visual inspection ... of the subject property, defined scope of work, statement of assumptions and limiting conditions, and appraiser's certification, my (our) opinion of the market value, as defined, of the real property that is the subject of this report is $150,000, as of 11/3/2009."¹⁴ The appraisal also states that the "appraisal is made ... subject to the following repairs or alterations on the basis of a hypothetical condition that the repairs or alterations have been completed ...: Repair multiple cracks in the exterior brick (see photos)."¹⁵ Finally, the "Statement of Assumptions and Limiting Conditions" section of the appraisal states that "[t]he appraiser has based his or her appraisal report and valuation conclusion for an appraisal that is subject to satisfactory completion, repairs, or alterations on the assumption that the completion, repairs, or alterations on the subject property will be performed in a professional manner."¹⁶ In other words, the appraisal indicates that the value is $150,000.00 if the exterior brick is repaired. As of the date of the appraisal, the brick had not been repaired. Under the terms of the agreement, Plaintiff has no obligation to make such repairs. It is logical to conclude that the repairs would cost more than $.01. Thus, it is clear that according to Defendants' appraisal, the property actually—not hypothetically or conditionally—appraised at a value less than $150,000.00. Thus, Defendants properly exercised their right to terminate the agreement pursuant to the appraisal contingency addendum. Accordingly, there is no genuine issue of fact and Defendants are entitled to judgment as a matter of law.

WHEREFORE, we enter the following:

ORDER

AND NOW, this 12th day of October, 2010, the Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings of Defendants Kevin and Katherine McElwain is hereby GRANTED. Judgment is hereby entered in favor of Defendants and against Plaintiff on Plaintiff's complaint.

Subrogation—Insurance—Evidence—Relevant—Admissible—Real Party In Interest—Verification.

In a subrogation matter arising from three simultaneous house fires, in a development built by Defendant Tuskes, with electrical service provided by Defendant MetEd, Plaintiffs filed a “Motion in Limine to Preclude Defendants from Presenting Any Evidence Related to Insurance at Trial,” on the basis that to admit such evidence would be both irrelevant and prejudicial. Allied Electrical Supply Co. v. Roberts, 797 A.2d 362 (Pa. Super. 2002); Dively v. Penn-Pittsburgh Corp., 332 Pa. 65, 2 A.2d 831 (1938). Defendant MetEd argued that because the pleadings had been verified by agents of Subrogees, they had revealed themselves to be the real parties in interest and put insurance at issue in the case, thereby waiving the protection of the bar on admissibility of insurance evidence at trial. Further, MetEd asserted a right to cross-examine Subrogees as verifiers of the pleadings. Upon review, the Court rejected MetEd’s arguments and granted the motion.

Order of the Court entered on September 28, 2010 by DALLY, J.

ORDER

AND NOW, this 28th day of September 2010, Plaintiff’s “Motion in Limine to Preclude Defendants from Presenting Any Evidence Related to Insurance at Trial” is hereby GRANTED, as set forth more fully in the attached Statement of Reasons.

STATEMENT OF REASONS

Presently before the Court is Plaintiffs’ “Motion in Limine to Preclude Defendants from Presenting Any Evidence Related to Insurance at Trial,” filed August 20, 2010. Subsequent to receipt of the same, the Court set a briefing schedule and gave the parties the opportunity to request oral argument. The matter is now ready for disposition on the briefs of Plaintiffs and Defendant Metropolitan Edison a/k/a MetEd a/k/a GPU Energy a/k/a First Energy Companies ("MetEd").

STATEMENT OF FACTS

The facts of this case have been stated by the Court numerous times in opinions on a variety of pretrial issues. A brief summary of the essential facts follows. On August 27, 2005 the homes of Scot and Ann Gordon, Jonathan and Maria Prinitis and Dennis and Patricia Muthard (collectively "Plaintiffs"), all of which are situate along Spy Glass Hill Road in the Park Ridge Development in Bath, Northampton County, were damaged in simultaneous house fires. The Park Ridge Development was built by Defendant Charles Tuskes & Son, Inc. t/a Tuskes Homes. Defendant Mohn Electric, LLC performed as an electrical subcontractor on the construction project, and MetEd provided the electricity to the homes.

The instant matter is a subrogation action instituted by named Plaintiffs' insurers, State Farm Fire & Casualty Company ("State Farm"), Erie Insurance Company ("Erie") and Allstate Insurance Company ("Allstate") (collectively "Subrogees") for the purpose of recovering first-party insurance benefits paid out to the named Plaintiffs (alternatively "Subrogors"). On January 25, 2007 the underlying Complaint was filed alleging claims of negligence and breach of express and implied warranties against all Defendants, breach of contract as to MetEd and Tuskes, and claims of strict liability against MetEd and Mohn. On March 27, 2007, Tuskes filed an Answer and New Matter bringing cross-claims against MetEd and Mohn as to liability. On April 10, 2007, MetEd filed an Answer and New Matter asserting cross-claims against Tuskes and Mohn. On April 13, 2007 MetEd filed an Amended Answer and New Matter joining Dennis and Patricia Muthard as Additional Defendants and raising a spoliation of evidence defense.

On August 9, 2010, the Court issued an Order, which in part granted summary judgment to Mohn and excused them from the case. The remaining parties were then given a deadline of August 20, 2010 for the submission of all pretrial motions. While several motions remain for disposition prior to the jury trial of this matter, which is set for the week of October 25, 2010, the sole issue presently before the Court is Plaintiffs' Motion in Limine seeking to prevent Defendants from making any reference to insurance at trial.

Plaintiffs base the present motion on an assertion and case law in support of the same, that evidence of insurance is inadmissible at trial, as irrelevant and prejudicial. Allied Electrical Supply Co. v. Roberts, 797 A.2d 362 (Pa. Super. 2002); Dively v. Penn-Pittsburgh Corporation, 332 Pa. 65, 2 A.2d 831 (1938). Plaintiffs, again relying on case law, further assert that the rule is equally applied to cases instituted by insureds in their own names, as well as in subrogation actions brought by insurers. Paxton National Insurance Company v. Brickajlik, 513 Pa. 627, 630, 522 A.2d 531, 533 (1987). As such, Plaintiffs seek to preclude such evidence from presentation at trial.

In response, MetEd contends that the rule precluding presentation of insurance-related evidence does not attach in the present case. In support of the same, MetEd argues that because the Complaint and subsequent pleadings were verified by agents of Subrogees rather than by the Subrogors in whose names the action was brought, the Subrogees have revealed themselves as the real parties in interest. MetEd further contends that by doing so, Subrogees have put insurance at issue in the case, and thereby waived the protection that would have otherwise been afforded to them relative to the preclusion of evidence of insurance at trial. Finally, MetEd argues that because representatives of Subrogors verified the underlying Complaint, as well as answers to discovery, it has a legal right to cross-examine those individuals with respect to the matters of record raised therein.¹

Upon consideration, the Court rejects MetEd's argument. To find otherwise would be to effectively eviscerate the right of a subrogee to bring an action in the name of a subrogor. As an initial matter, we note MetEd's failure to cite any valid legal authority in support of their position, and we restate the basic legal tenet that a defendant is foreclosed from raising evidence of a subrogor's insurance policy, payment thereunder or related issues in cases involving insurance. Pa. R.C.P. 2002; 6 Goodrich-Amram 2d §2002(d):4. We further note that the only recognized exception to the preclusion of evidence of insurance in a subrogation action is where a defendant asserts that a named plaintiff agreed to bear the risk of loss. Id. MetEd is not arguing the application of that exception in this case. Rather, MetEd is asserting Plaintiffs' complete waiver of the protections afforded under the law to an insurer in a subrogation action.

In so doing, MetEd ignores certain rules of law. First, as referenced above, the law specifically allows a subrogee to bring an action in the name of a subrogor. Pa. R.C.P. 2002. Second, the law provides that when a subrogee commences an action in the name of a subrogor, the subrogee must verify the complaint. Wolf v. Allegheny County, 3 Pa. Commonwealth Ct. 27, 281 A.2d 82 (1971). That is precisely what happened in the instant case. Subrogees brought an action against Defendants in the name of Subrogors, and Subrogees verified the pleadings in accordance with the law. To determine that by following the law governing pleadings, verifications and real parties in interest, Plaintiffs somehow put insurance at issue or waived the protection of the rules of law governing evidence, would be to draw an absurd conclusion.

Finally, in response to MetEd's contention that a right to cross-examine Subrogees arises from their verification of the pleadings in accordance with Pa. R.C.P. 1024, the Court notes that the right to cross-examine does not attach via the pleadings, but at trial. See generally, Collins v. Cooper, 746 A.2d 615 (Pa. Super. 2000). Plaintiffs may call the witnesses of their choosing in an effort to prove their case, and it is those witnesses whom the defense has a right to cross-examine. Id., 746 A.2d at 617-618. It matters not who verifies the pleadings, only who is called at trial to prove Plaintiffs' case. Thus, we find no merit to MetEd's argument that Subrogee's verification of the pleadings opens the door to the right to cross-examine Subrogees at trial.

In light of the foregoing, Plaintiff's Motion in Limine to Preclude Defendants from Presenting Any Evidence Related to Insurance at Trial is hereby GRANTED.
